Guide Notes

The Girl Guides and Brownies have been busy renovating the old toys collected recently for the needy of the district. Over fifty toys have been collected and repaired.

The girls have been quite hampered in their work through the lack of a place to repair the toys, but have shown an unselfish attitude in doing the best they could under the circumstances.

There are over 150 toy shops in Canada this year, operated by Scouts and Guides. Arrowwood expects to have one in its community.

All toys should be in by the end of this week.

Is This Progress?

Were it not for the occasional event of great significance, civilization would stagger on towards waning, without making being any the wiser, or the more acutely aware of its steady progression. World statesmen occasionally venture the prediction that another great war inevitably would wreck the civilization of today; and the statements of these prominent men would undoubtedly be valueless. If their face value, were it not for sporadic manifestations of the dynamic bias which distinguishes western civilization. Other men of renown have said civilization has no goal, no great achievements to its credit, in that it is not increasing and has not increased, the sum total of human happiness. But again, some event hits the front pages of the daily newspapers indicating its triumphal march—somewhere, which completely confounds Cassius-like prophets and champions of stagnation.

The events which have called forth this opening paragraph are, of course, those which occurred recently in the great and glorious State of California. There, two confessed kidnappers were summarily lynched by a lynch mob, small-town crowd, instead of being punished for usurping the functions of the state itself, are exonerated and even lauded by the chief dignitary of that state. In fact, Governor Rolph was so far from taking punitive measures against the crowd which (perhaps) saved his hangman a job, that he declared to the press his wish that he had the power to release all kidnappers held in California State prisons to the tender mercies of the same mob it might, he added, act as a deterrent to kidnappers elsewhere in the United States. Thus civilization marches.

Possibly there is truth in his contention. It is equally true, however, that rigorous enforcement of the laws entrusted to his administration would serve the selfish purpose of achieving a good result. If his commendation is to mean that lynch law can be invoked with impunity in the warfare against kidnapping, it might be urged that the cure is as bad as the disease. In fact, the cure was itself a disease which took more than half a century of repression to effect. Governor Rolph is dabbling in a most unbecomingly patriotic; and perhaps he would be employed better in tightening up the law and its enforcement, through the police and the courts, than thus encouraging revival of a diseased condition which has already shown its deadly breachers. In effect, a protest against the law's delays and the inefficiency of a law-enforcing machinery. Perhaps then, Governor Rolph should begin the clean-up against kidnappers nearer his own office.

They have a new premier in France. M. Chautempe, in fact, the 101st premier France has had in some 63 years. Apparently the motto over the door of the office reserved for the chief executive in France is "Here today, gone tomorrow."

Old Lawrence Sterne it was who said: "Do things better than France." It would be a pity to see the more stable and dignified British process of placing and replacing Prime Ministers, to agree with this sweeping statement. Changes in the French cabinet are made without involving the machinery of an election. They just change—that is all. A prime minister is elected around him, not of those adhering to his own political party or even sharing his political faith. He selects such individuals as appear to him to have sufficient of a loyal following among their party, and he selects them. He is not bound by party discipline. The parliament runs its course. Ministers change without consulting their platform to the people. The system removes government from the people, and tends inevitably to place the real authority in the higher class of permanent officials of the civil service, as in Canada. As a Canadian, I know it. It is impossible under such a system, while the bargaining that invariably precedes the formation of a French cabinet injects a pork-barrel element into the political arena which is repugnant to western minds.

Shipments Arrived

First Class Condition

British First Mail Satisfied With Honey From Saskatchewan
Saskatchewan honey arrived in Great Britain in first class condition. The honey, a carload shipment, was sent to Britain on the S.S. Brandon, via the Hudson Bay, to British importing firms.

R. W. Pugh, provincial apiarist, states that W. Waldron, Saskatchewan markets the honey, and Mr. Keith, of the Canadian publicity department, made a personal inspection of the honey at the London dock. They write that honey landed in first class condition, the cartons being clean and the honey is a uniformly good state.

The British importing firm to which the honey shipment was consigned, writes as follows: "We are exceedingly satisfied as the honey and the delivered in excellent condition and the quality is first class."

Trying Out New Uniforms

Japanese Soldiers To Report On Suit And Wool Cloth

Official announcement expressed by the Japanese War Office over a report that silk uniforms were to be provided for the soldiers apparently been retracted. Experimental uniforms have now been issued to some battalions. Some of the uniforms are made entirely of silk, but most of the cloth is a mixture of wool and raw silk. The silk-clad soldiers will be asked what they think of the new uniforms and especially in preserving warmth, effects of rain and snow on them, cost of washing and repairing.

Gilding Record For England

Gilding record for England was set up by J. Laver, of the Thurst Gilding Club, at Thirsk. He remained in the seven hours and twenty-two minutes. Mr. Laver might have continued for a longer period, but darkness interfered with visibility. Heavy rain was falling when he set the world record in his German and exceeds thirty-six hours.

Shortness of Breath, Wet, Sinking Feelings

If going up stairs, climbing hills, walking too far, if the least exertion causes you to stop to get your breath or if you have wet, sinking feelings, it is time for you to get the cure of your trouble.

What you should do is take a course of Milburn's H. & N. Pills. They tone up and strengthen the system so as to prevent any harmful attacks of disease.

Ask your druggist for Milburn's H. & N. Pills.

Coal King's Rise And Fall

Valuable Treasures Collected By Pennsylvania Man Sold For Song

Under a mammoth circus tent, on a well-grown maple, where some played some of the world's most famous social lights, an auctioneer at Uniontown, Pennsylvania, backed out the epilogue of a drama of the rise and fall of a king of coal. And as piece after piece of the treasures collected by the late John V. Thompson fell under the hammer, the husky-voiced auctioneer shouted: "Why, they're going for a song—going for a song!" They continued to go for a "song," and three hours after the sale began a throng of art connoisseurs and society notables had spent only about $11,000. The highest price paid for any article was $2,400 for a beautiful Krimmlach rug which Thompson bought for $20,000 while on a honeymoon in Constantinople with his Broadway showgirl bride, the Honey Haves. A richly designed Italian scarf, the first article to be sold, brought $18. A $7,500 antique tapestry Persian rug went for $485.

Profit In Forestry

Under Proper Conditions Tree Growing Promises Sure Returns

Planting forests frequently has been praised as profitable business, but generally has not made much of an appeal to private enterprise. The crop is too long in growing. Nevertheless, as an undertaking for governments and for long-lived institutions tree growing under proper conditions promises sure returns.

Forester of Michigan State College recently estimated the crop value of a planting of white pine made on a 100-acre tract purchased by the state land used was valued at the time at $15 per acre and the total cost of trees, planting labor and all other expenses in connection with the project has been $32.75 an acre. The value of the timber on such an acre at present market prices is estimated at $18.80.

College authorities therefore compute that the trees have earned compound interest at the rate of 4.05 per cent. for the forty-two years.

Writing For The Cinema

Canadian Films Will Soon Be Taking Prominent Place

Capt. Howe, a member of the board of directors of the Canadian Film Producers, addressed the Canadian Women's Press Club at Toronto on "Writing for the Cinema." He traced the history of the industry generally and particularly in Canada, expressing his conviction that in an unbelieveably short time the Canadian film will be taking its place among the pictures of the world—this despite the fact that so far Canada has been lagging in the race that she might be considered as having hardly started.

The speaker estimated that the various companies, pointing out their fine qualities and the reverses, assuring his audience that he was confident that in Canada a film is not only people qualified to write for the cinema but that Canada had the material for the production of films that should be second to none.

It Happens Frequently

People Travelling In Europe Forget Most Foreigners Speak English

An Englishman who knew no language but his own had lost his way in Rome. In his perplexity it occurred to him to write the name of his hotel in large letters on his card and hand it to the first benign-looking individual he met.

An Italian thus accosted turned, and with one charming manner, he said, accompanied the perturbed Englishman for about 20 minutes in the way they reached the hotel designated. Then the tourist pointed out volubly thanks in the only language at his command.

The Italian looked at him in amazement, then remarked in perfect English: "I thought you were deaf and dumb!"

Has Lived Long Life

Ontario Woman Recently Celebrates Her 103rd Birthday

Still interested in living her century over again, Mrs. Miriam W. Hillyard recently entered her 103rd year. She was born in Frost Village, Quebec, in 1831, and has a vivid recollection of the soldiers scouring the district in 1837 on the hunt for Papineau's rebels.

Her parents were Edmund Winchester and his wife, Dorothy Durand, both of United Empire loyalist stock. In early life Mrs. Hillyard came to Ontario, and her husband, Robert Hillyard, a banker, died in St. Mary's in 1862. Her one son served in the South African war in 1900, and was settled in that country. She has a married daughter in Philadelphia and another at home.

WORK IS EASIER NOW FAT HAS GONE

"I was no stout about 11 months ago," a woman writes, "that I became a burden to myself. Then, after a long time, I started to take exercise. I had to go on sticks for some time. I was so fat that I could not move. I had no one else could feel so different. Since taking Kruschen, I have lost nearly 25 lb. of superfluous fat. I can now run about as well as when I was 20, cook, work and attend to seven growing children."—(Mrs. G. H. H.)

Arctic Cold At Equator

Instruments Register Twenty Degrees Lower At Similar Altitude

If you were looking for a colder place than the north pole, you would not go to the equator to find it, would you? As contrary to fact as the statement may seem to be, you can find a tonic influence of the quest would end in disappointment. Meteorologists have found that it is actually colder at the equator than it is at the north pole. For proof of this scientists journeyed to the tropics and from a position on the equator, they used sounding balloons to register a temperature that was 20 degrees over the Arctic regions. As an explanation of this phenomenon it is suggested that the radiation of heat from the surface of the earth at the equator is retarded by humid air.

Our Best Pleasures

Six Rules By Which They May Be Tested

The best pleasures are first, the simplest—pleasures which require least machinery, least effort on the part of others, second, the most unobtrusive, third, the most accessible; fourth, those that can be most widely shared; fifth, those that can be most often repeated without doing harm to body, mind, or soul; sixth, those that call into action the highest qualities of life. The best pleasures are what we might call—top-floor pleasures; that is, the pleasures of the mind. We test our pleasures by such laws as these. They will take us outdoors instead of indoors; to nature, and not to artificial things; to wholesome excitements, to friendship, and books rather than to excitement and things that are artificial.

Procedure To Be Abolished

No More Advance Information About Grants To Fairs

The Federal Department of Agriculture's established procedure of informing the public of the results of the last annual meeting of the government grant they will probably receive, is to be abolished this year.

Delegates to the Canadian Association of Fairs and Exhibitions were told at their last annual meeting that there will be no advance information this year. George B. Rothwell, head of the livestock division of the department of agriculture, made the announcement. He said the department's estimates would be subject to revision by the government, even if the House passed them.

Faithful To Old Tradition

South African Debt Still Greatest Bible-Reading Race

Worthy descendants of the world's greatest Bible-reading race, the South African Debt, are proving faithful to the old-time tradition. It was expected that the new African Bible would be a best seller, and a first edition of 100,000 copies were ordered by the British and South African Bible Society. But so heavy has been the demand that a cable has been sent instructing the printers to increase the edition to 150,000 copies.

Lord Lonsdale's Model Estate

Every Small Detail Of Management Watched By Owner

Lord Lonsdale, in addition to his many-sided sporting interests, is chairman of a publishing firm. He has a wonderful way with animals—particularly with horses and dogs and birds. At meal times at Lotheridge which privileged dog comes into the dining room and goes sedately to its own particular corner, and there settles quietly with one eye fixed watchfully on Lord Lonsdale's movements. The stable would give any maker of films a mass of material no other establishment of these days could offer, says the Over Sea Man. They are magnificently run in the old-fashioned English manner—as, indeed, the whole house is—without any regard to the modern love of informality and speed. Lord Lonsdale has kept all his old coaches and carriages—in themselves a small museum which will interest future generations. All of them are painted the bright yellow which makes his carriages so conspicuous at race meetings today. And he himself watches every small detail of the estate's management—even to the laying out of the grounds, which was done to his particular instructions; each is of a different character, Italian, French, and so on.

Air Fields Across Canada

Within A Year Stations Will Be Ready For Service

A year from now air fields across Canada will be ready for a trans-Canada service, Brigadier J. Gordon, commanding officer of M.D. 12, told the Young Men's Board of Trade at Regina.

Despite unemployment, Brigadier Gordon pointed out there were doing work that would prove a boon to the aviation in Canada. It was a great obstacle to a trans-Canada route in the past, the northwestern part of Ontario, was the scene of camps for the preparation of airports.

By next fall Canada would have ground facilities to permit the establishment of an air line from Toronto to Vancouver, Brigadier Gordon pointed out. This would lie on the shortest route from Europe to Asia. The Pan-American airlines had already received concessions on a portion of the route, which would have terminals in Newfoundland.

He spoke of the possibility of competing with the United States in long-haul passenger air lines, although he said, passenger traffic was so small in Canada as not to merit the operation of an air line simply for passenger purposes.

Foreclosure Proceedings

Large Tracts Of Land In Manitoba And Saskatchewan Are Involved

Foreclosure proceedings involving first mortgage debentures in excess of $500,000 and second mortgage debentures of $713,000 on large tracts of land in Saskatchewan and Manitoba are being taken by the Bank of Montreal, which has taken in Saskatchewan courts. By an order made recently arrears must be paid by October 3, 1934, or foreclosure will become absolute.

The debenture bonds first issued were to large tracts of land in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, while the second issue bonds were sold mainly to Mennonites already settled in Canada and the United States. The company promoting the settlements was the Intercontinental Company. The National Trust Company has been named trustee for the mortgage debenture holders.

The decision of the court does not affect the position of the numerous settlers.

Reading for Pleasure and Profit

We are glad indeed to welcome the idea of a Public Library in Arrowwood and the constitution appears a very workable idea. But it takes more than bookshelves and rules to make a library. Its real value will not even be the number of books used—although this is the working idea of every librarian—but the amount of real pleasure and profit that the village and surrounding district will receive through the circulation of books.

Apparently there are two ends to be gained but these are not mutually exclusive. Pleasure in its final analysis comes from only what is profitable. A passing emotion may give a temporary thrill for which we may be the better or the worse. But the pleasure that comes from deep thoughts and clean strong humor builds manhood into any life. Nor are the "days-as-dust" books the sole contain-ers of such reading. Truth embodied in a tale has always proven to be of the very highest rank. Good books are readable books. There is no virtue in dryness. But on the other hand we cannot conceive of anything so uninteresting as a writer's investment in trivialities.

But painful and profitable may be exclusive terms when it comes to reading. To be profitable, it must give pleasure. And it may well be that in many lives, worried with care and literally worked to death, the sheer pleasure of reading could be the highest profit attainable. Much study is a weariness to the flesh but books for study should form, at least a part, of every collection of books. The proper blending of the two is an ideal for any community.

Here's wishing the very best for the committee and staff of workers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jennejohn spent the week-end in town, visiting their daughter, Miss E. Jennejohn.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lewendon and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward.

The three-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Royer has been taken back to the Calgary hospital.

Mrs. Jane Beagle returned on Monday from Lima, Ohio, where she has been visiting with her mother and other relatives since early in June.

The Women's Association of the United Church will meet at the home of Mrs. R. H. Bishop this afternoon. The ladies of the church will be entertained at a later date.

Jay Beagle has the east sheet of ice in shape and the first game of the season was played last night. Clele and Delbert Duncan lost no time, since the cold weather set in, and now they have an excellent sheet of ice for skating on, which is being taken advantage of by the skaters each night. The first hockey practice of the season took place last night.

Seasonable Weather

Just last week, when we were handing the Weather-man a palm for the salubrious weather he had been dishing out to this favored district, he came back at us with a dish of old Boreas that put new pep into those who had been waiting for a drop in the Mercury, so that they could prepare ice for the winter sports, and those that have this work in charge have the rinks ready for the enthusiasts

A man was returning from a poker game which, as usual, did not break up till four in the morning. Having just purchased a Philco radio, he invited his friend to step in for a minute, with the statement: "Come in and see how easy I can get California." His companion instantly retorted, "That's nothing, stay in the car and come home with me, and see how easy I can get Hell."
